

The Kick Every Guy Needs for Late Nights... In His Back Pocket

Addicting Line of Energy Chews Introduces Three New Full Flavored Products

After a 40-hour work week and a nagging boss, who has the energy to go out for beers and watch the game? You may want to go on that second date tonight, but you feel like you might fall asleep at the table. We've all been there; but now you don't need a sugary drink or shot to give you that fourth quarter burst of energy. Imagine a product that tastes like candy, is low in sugar, calories and carbohydrates and packs as much power as the leading can of energy drink. If that seems impossible, you haven't tried one of LiveWire Energy's three new energy chews: Dark Roast Coffee, Cinnamon Fire and Sour Apple.

Energy chews are a portable and pocket-sized alternative to energy drinks and shots, and they are quickly becoming the next big thing in the energy supplement industry. LiveWire Energy's new flavors join the four original chews: Mint Chocolate, Chocolate, Pomaberry and Citrus Mango. At about 50 cents apiece, they are the most portable energy supplement on the market and they are packed with B vitamins and up to 120 mg of time-released caffeine.

If you're at that 3 p.m. crashing point during a long day or warming up before a big game, LiveWire Energy chews are a cost-effective, convenient energy supplement to give you the kick in the ass you need. Chew it up.
